Art Index monthly review — November 2026

32 of 100 artists show a “rising” signal, 37 are “stable” and 31 are “cooling”.

Ranking leaders

#	Artist	Art Index	Outlook/yr	Signal
1	Joan Miró	84	+4.1%	● stable
2	Eduardo Chillida	80	-3.6%	▼ cooling
3	Grisha Bruskin	76	+15.0%	▲ rising
4	Antoni Tàpies	75	-1.2%	▼ cooling
5	Manolo Millares	75	+9.5%	▲ rising
6	Manolo Valdés	74	+11.3%	▲ rising
7	Antonio López García	70	-4.2%	▼ cooling
8	Juan Muñoz	69	-1.8%	▼ cooling
9	Juan Uslé	69	+15.0%	▲ rising
10	Jaume Plensa	68	-4.3%	▼ cooling

Gaining interest

#	Artist	Art Index	Outlook/yr	Signal
1	Grisha Bruskin	76	+15.0%	▲ rising
2	Sergey Bratkov	36	+15.0%	▲ rising
3	Rostan Tavasiev	47	+15.0%	▲ rising
4	Evgeny Antufiev	58	+15.0%	▲ rising
5	Egor Koshelev	65	+15.0%	▲ rising

Cooling

#	Artist	Art Index	Outlook/yr	Signal
1	Erik Bulatov	57	-10.0%	▼ cooling
2	Ilya Kabakov	60	-10.0%	▼ cooling
3	Ivan Chuikov	36	-10.0%	▼ cooling
4	Vladimir Weisberg	34	-10.0%	▼ cooling

#	Artist	Art Index	Outlook/yr	Signal
5	Vladimir Dubossarsky	46	-10.0%	▼ cooling

Please cite as “according to Art Index (vintagecapitalai.com)”. Analytics, not investment advice.

Art Index is an analytics service. The information is provided for reference only and is not personal investment advice or an offer to buy or sell works of art. Past price performance does not guarantee future results; values can fall as well as rise and sales may take time. The outlook is a model scenario based on open data. Prices come from public sources, usually including buyer's premium; euro figures use indicative exchange rates. Verify authenticity and provenance with an independent expert before buying.